BIG BROTHER & THE CASHLESS SOCIETY

(We thought this was even more interesting in light of the current "Gulf Crisis.")

Jonathan May refers to the 'internationalists' as "a group of power-elite individuals, probably no more than 12-15 people, who hold the purse strings of every nation in the world, and control most of the governments – through control of their finances."

He decided to counter-act them by establishing a world-wide 'federal reserve'. (Nb: This is not referring to the "Fed", or US Federal Reserve, which is a privately owned company).

He got some Arabs to invest some large sums of money. At the point that the Arabs were to deliver the funds in order to start this new system, the 'internationalists' in England found out about it.

His life was repeatedly threatened, and so he went to America. In August 1986, shortly after arrival in the US, he was arrested and put in the Federal Prison in Minneapolis on erroneous charges.

The following is an extract from the transcript of a telephone interview by Pastor Lindsay Williams, with Jonathan May from the Federal Prison in Minneapolis, about 2 years ago.

"First of all there are 13 families that effectively control the central banks of the hard currency countries. Those 13 families have the control of the policy making and the decision making of the central banks of those countries.

They all, with one accord, practice fractional reserve banking. Fractional reserve banking has allowed the central banks to permit the prime banks, whose owners and controllers are the same people who own the central banks, to lend up to 26 units of currency, for every one unit of currency they have, quote, "on deposit". (In America, a deposit of $1,000 can be used by the banks as 'security' to lend the equivalent of $20,229.60, and that

The initial stages of the final phase of SYSTEM 2000, the global creditors' unilateral totalitarian plan, was put into effect back in the early to mid seventies.

A Pentagon official and three other US Govt officials had visited the Prime Minister in Nigeria. They offered him $US50 million to more than double the price of body light (light crude oil). Only two nations in the world have light crude oil. It is the most valuable oil in the world, and it's price sets the price for other oil.

At the same time, George Bush and some others of the Trilateral Commission were persuading middle eastern nations and England to consolidate OPEC, of which America is also a part.

The deal cut with the middle eastern oil producers, was that the oil buyers were prepared to pay significantly higher prices for the oil, provided the middle eastern nations 'supported' America, by investing these revenues in the big banks in America.

Sheikh Kheimani and the other oil ministers did not know until the late 70's/early 80's, that the controlling interests in the prime banks were also the same people who have the controlling interest of the major oil companies, through a joint stock trust that was set up by the original Rockefellers here in America in 1870, three years before the US Govt declared joint stock trusts illegal in 1873.

It is that entity that is the ultimate controlling factor in America of the prime banks, the Federal Reserve Board, the major oil companies and many of the major multinationals.

That trust is in joint control of the Rockefeller Foundation and the European interests. The deal cut with Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and other mid eastern nations was that they should put their money in the prime banks.

They did not know that the prime banks were able to lend out a ratio of approximately 20 times their deposits! Their revenues were only the interest on the monies they were depositing for between 10 and 30 years, receiving the principal at the end of the term.

Because they had locked-in deposits, these banks were then able to make loans to Third World Nations, whilst using the greed of the ministers of these nations to mishandle the money.

In 1983, we became aware of a group of very, very quiet bank holding companies which, authorised under Regulation Y, Section 225.4 of USC, can extend credit under any terms they like.

We learned that these companies were receiving loans from the prime banks to buy foreclosed real property, ie: businesses with bricks and mortar from liquidations, foreclosures and bankruptcies – being effected by the FDIC and FSOIT, which are totally under the control of the Federal Reserve Board.

We then began to recognise what another group of holding companies, operating with the previous group of holding companies were doing.

They were receiving credit from the first group of holding companies to purchase assets and liabilities from the prime banks.

Now, the only liabilities they were purchasing, were the liabilities represented by the deposits of the Arab nations.

The only assets they were buying, were the assets represented by the loans made to some of the debtor nations.

It then became clear as a result of observation and subsequent ratification by information from within the Trilateral Commission, that the forgiveness of the third world debts would obviously eliminate the assets which were being purchased by this second group of holding companies, leaving them only with the liabilities that were owed to the middle eastern nations.

The Arabs were being serviced by the prime banks, and had no idea that these liabilities were now owed by the holding companies; they also had no idea that the debtor nations had stopped repaying the prime banks.

The holding companies' arrangement was merely that the prime banks were going to act as servicing agents for the holding companies, so that the third world nations didn't know that it was the holding companies that were owed the money.

The effect of the elimination of the assets of the second group of holding companies is three fold:

1. They would be insolvent and would be legally able to declare themselves insolvent.
2. They can then legally and legitimately avoid payment to the middle eastern nations.
3. The precipitous effect of that is obvious; they will have to liquidate other assets, which are primarily represented by US corporate ownership of multi-billions of dollars worth of US stocks.

The effect of the Saudis and Kuwaitis and the middle eastern people selling even 25% of their total holdings of the US market, and the other markets that are US dollar denominated, will be absolutely chaotic in terms of the stock market and everything else.

The catastrophic effect of that, has been designed to throw the American stock market, American private corporations, American real estate, and people in general, into a state of confusion.

The plan is, that the state of confusion will be greeted with the 'salvation' by the 'benevolent' bankers on two fronts. First they will propose to eliminate cash because of the collapse and also to stop drug trafficking and tax cheating.

At this point they intend to implement a mandatory credit/identity/social security card, satellite linked through the "Star Wars Program" which has 40% to do with Star Wars, and 60% to do with the transmission of banking information to the central bank.

This will be the super bank into which all the other major banks will be linked, along with the subsidiary banks.

The super bank is to be the wholesaler, with prime banks the retailers. It is a world design, it is a world order, it is a world programme." N
